HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

ELECTION HEADQUARTERS, Sept. 13 (Special)—Big Bob Elliott, the old pro who made good in his home town, was elected Mayor of San Diego tonight by a landslide vote.

Unofficial returns from scattered precincts throughout the city gave Elliott a commanding lead over another write-in candidate, teammate Bob Kerrigan.

Precinct No. 1, downtown, registered 12,000 votes for Elliott. The voting booths at Lane Field were torn down in a wild victory celebration by his supporters. Outside, on Broadway, Pacific Highway and Harbor Drive, hundreds of other voters milled in a mob scene.

"We want Elliott!" they chanted, tearing up Racing Forms and copies of the Hollywood Citizen-News.

* * *

Precincts in Ocean Beach and throughout the length and breadth of Point Loma reported thousands of votes for Elliott.

In East San Diego, Mission Hills, Hillcrest, North Park, South San Diego and the North Shore, the tide ran so strongly for Big Bob that election officials threw up their hands and refused to even count the vote.

Mayor John D. Butler, the old State College football star, cheerfully conceded defeat in his bid for re-election.

"The people have spoken," he said.

* * *

This was one script that wasn't written in Hollywood. San Diego was the scene, and Bob Elliott the author of a smashing baseball drama that saw him hit two mighty homers, driving in five of the runs that enabled the Padres to defeat Hollywood, 7 to 2, for the Coast League championship.

Not in the memory of the oldest inhabitant had a team so captured the imagination of the Man on the Street here. Baseball hysteria gripped the city during Sunday's high drama in Los Angeles, when the pennant rode on every pitch and Buddy Peterson hit a grand-slam homer.

If Lane Field had been able to hold them, 40,000 fans would have stormed in to see Monday's grand finale.

To Lefty O'Doul, a manager with brains and plenty of guts, and to his entire team, not forgetting old Luke Easter, go the thanks of the community for a thrilling season.

* * *

Yeah, I never saw anything like it in San Diego, and I've lived here since 1908.

I've been a football fanatic for 35 years, but when the old town has a baseball team that fights right down to the wire in a dead heat with the classy Hollywood club, and belts them out in the playoff game, then I'm one of the boys again.

Yippee!

WHITE CANE DAY HERE SATURDAY

White Cane Day is Saturday, Sept. 18.

Members of the Ocean Beach Lions Club were reminded of this important date by Lee Coley, committee chairman, at their last dinner meeting. They were all blindfolded when dessert was served and learned how elusive good apple pie is when it can't be seen. Every member realized how grateful he is for good sight.

President George Celeste then recalled the state-wide recognition the Ocean Beach Lions Club received last year when the generosity of the people of Ocean Beach and Point Loma made White Cane Day so successful. He reviewed the many instances when this fund had aided the blind persons in our community since that day.

Dr. S. Kuntz described some of the causes of blindness and the things medical science can do to help a few who are losing their sight, but emphasized the great need for sight conservation. Recalling the helpless feeling during the few moments of temporary blindness while trying to eat their pie, every member of the club quietly resolved to do his part to make White Cane Day an even greater success this year.

Nearly a hundred workers will be on the streets of Ocean Beach and Point Loma Saturday offering miniature white canes to those who make voluntary contributions to help the blind in our community.

Big Football Carnival Set Friday, Sept. 24

Provided with a "natural" theme in the form of the centennial year of public education in San Diego, the City Schools' 16th annual football carnival, a colorful extravaganza of football, pageantry and music, will be presented Friday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in Balboa Stadium.

With the opening of school this week, 1700 students in seven senior high schools went to work in earnest polishing details of the 2½-hour program. Many have worked throughout the summer on their individual phases.

Carnival Manager Bill Bailey said that "One Hundred Years of Public Schools in San Diego" will be the theme for the pageant which will open the program at 7:30 p.m., preceding the football game of three 18-minute quarters.

High school bands, drum corps, drill teams and flag and pompon corps, each attired in colorful uniforms, will participate in the pageant. The script, describing the progress of public education in San Diego from its beginning in 1854, has been prepared by Dr. Alex Zimmerman, City Schools' Director of Music; Myron Green, music supervisor, and Miriam Paine, physical education supervisor.

Mission Bay High School will participate in the carnival for the first time, taking one of the episodes in the pageant although not competing in the football game.

The "West" teams of Lincoln, Point Loma and San Diego High Schools will be matched in that order against the "East" teams of La Jolla, Hoover and Kearny High Schools in the football game, scheduled at 8:20 p.m., following the pageant. Student bodies of the "West" teams will sit on the west side of the stadium, those of the "East" teams on the opposite side.

Reserved seats ($1.50) are available now at each of the seven participating schools, and at several stores, including Marc's Mens' Clothing in Ocean Beach.

General admission ($1.00 and children's (50c) tickets are available at all secondary schools.

Local Anglers In Yellow Derby Fishoff Sunday

Top 100 anglers of the southland, representing the successful qualifier in the fourth and final period of the $25,000 San Diego Yellowtail Derby, will fire their final volleys in the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored fishing classic Sunday in a one-day fishoff for the automobile and other major prizes.

As usual, the Ocean Beach-Point Loma sector will be very strongly represented in the fishoff. Among others, the imposing list includes the following: 25-pound 14-ounce albacore, Laura Kruger, 5056 Saratoga; 23-2 albacore, J. D. Vose, 4654 Pescadero; 22-10 yellowtail, William Starkey, 4734 Long Branch; 22-10 yellow, Woodrow Leverenz, 5129 Brighton; 22-4 yellow, David Labruzzi, 2214 Hugo; 21-4 yellow, Paul Mayercik, 3111 Ingelow; and 21-2 yellow, Frank Arnold, 4932 Saratoga. Al Byrd, 4451 Saratoga, took the largest qualifier on the final day, a 30 pound 4 ouncer.

Close of the derby will be the signal for the yellows at the Coronado Islands to really start popping bait if they follow their usual procedure pattern. For the last few years, the best fishing has followed the derby close, and this promises to be no exception.

Seven more marlin were brought to gaff Saturday, bringing the season's total to 167 weighed at the Marlin Club and about a dozen elsewhere.

Construction of Groin Urged by O. B. Chamber

Construction of a groin or jetty from the foot of Saratoga Ave., to stabilize the local beach, was urged by the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce this week in a resolution sent to the City Council.

The Ocean Beach waterfront has suffered serious beach erosion, partly caused or aggravated by construction of the Mission Bay jetties, it was pointed out.

With $750,000 appropriated by the Federal Government for dredging Mission Bay Channel, present plans call for depositing spoil from the dredging on the local waterfront.

On a previous occasion, the resolution stated, spoil was deposited on the beach but "did not remain stable and washed away."

Pointing out that Army Engineers and State authorities recommend a stone groin at the foot of Saratoga Ave., the resolution continues as follows:

"WHEREAS $50,000 was appropriated by the State, and $50,000 was appropriated by the City of San Diego to construct a jetty at Ocean Beach; and

"WHEREAS said funds were diverted by the City of San Diego for other purposes;

'NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce requests the Cty Council to immediately revive the plans for the aforementioned groin and/or jetty forthwith, before the dredging commences; authorize the City engineers to estimate the cost of said groin and/or jetty; design the same; further, that the City Council appropriate such funds as may be necessary to construct said groin and/or jetty.

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said groin and/or jetty be constructed before the spoil is deposited so that the beach at Ocean Beach may be permanently stabilized, and the City of San Diego may thereby fulfill its obligation to the residents of the Ocean Beach area."

The resolution was signed by H. J. La Dou, president of the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce.

LOCAL FIREBUG STILL AT WORK

Three more fires, two of them probably the work of incendiarists, occurred in Ocean Beach Monday night.

The first blaze occurred at 8 p.m. in an apartment house at 2023 Bacon St., where some interior damage was done. This fire was accidental—perhaps started by a cigarette, it was reported.

At 9:43 p.m., flames broke out in the rear of a garage at 5046 Newport Ave., but were extinguished after only slight damage.

Another fire was reported in the same block, at 10:48 p.m., in the rear of a market at 5004 Newport Ave. Trash apparently had been placed against the door and set ablaze. Again, damage was slight, following prompt action by firemen.

Anti-Blood Clotting Drugs Prove Effective

Good news for people who have suffered recent heart attacks was received today by the San Diego County Heart Association. Findings of a committee appointed by the American Heart Association, working over a two year period, in cooperation with 16 hospitals, rave found anti-blood clotting drugs very effective in reducing the death rate from heart attacks.

According to Dr. W. C. Cooke, a director of San Diego County Heart Association, "Heart attacks, the leading cause of death in the United States, occur most frequently when the blood supply to the heart muscle is blocked by the formation of a clot in one of the coronary arteries which supply the heart muscle with blood. The blockage of the artery is known technically as 'coronary thrombosis', while physicians use the term 'myocardial infarction' to describe the resultant damage or destruction of heart muscle tissue."

"In this study of 1.031 patients who had suffered recent heart attacks and who have survived the first twenty-four hours in a hospital, a one-third drop in the death rate from heart attacks was achieved thru anti-blood clotting drugs. There was an even greater drop in the complications to which patients suffering heart attacks was susceptible!"

During the two year period of study, patients suffering from heart attacks, admitted to the 16 cooperating hospitals on odd days of the month, were treated with anticoagulants in addition to all standard therapy. Patients admitted on even days serve as controls, receiving similar therapy except for the omission of anticoagulants. Cases dying within 24 hours after hospitalization were not included in this tudy. All patients were followed consistently for six weeks. Analysis of records thus acquired over a two year period showed that in the untreated control group, 23.4 percent of the patients died with- six weeks, while in the treated group, only 16.0 percent died during the same period—a drop of approximately one-third.

Complications, efined as the development of additional clots in various other parts of the circulatory system as well as the heart, occurred at the rate of 42 per hundred cases among the controls during the six-week period. In the treated group there were only 13 complications per hundred cases—a drop of more than two-thirds.

Dr. Cooke stated that the complete findings of the Committee have just been released nationally in book form, with a full analysis of the entire series of cases and illustrative material under the title of "Myocardial Infarction" and anyone desiring further information should contact the San Diego County Heart Association, 1651 Fourth Ave., San Diego.

HEALTH FOR ALL

WHO GETS TB?

Half a century ago tuberculosis was a disease especially of young people. The late teens and early twenties seemed to be the dangerous years. So strong did the evidence seem that many older people believed they were safe from TB just bcause of their age. Now we know that TB can strike at any age. In fact, the age picture of the disease has changed dramatically.

Very young children can and do catch TB, and the disease frequently strikes them violently. But modern science has made great progress against TB in this age group. Between the ages of 5 and 14, children seem to be less susceptible to TB. From 15 to 24, there are almost five times as many cases as among young children.

But when we look at the next age group we find that "the dangerous years" have moved ahead. The greatest number of newly reported active cases of TB, acoording to Public Health Service figures are in the years from 25 to 44. There is some drop from 45 to 64, but there are nevertheless twice as many new cases reported in that group as among people 65 and over.

Young or old, people still catch TB in the same old way, by exposure to an active case of the disease. Statistics do not tell us at what age a person first gets the germs in his system. But the statistics do seem to say that more people are breaking down with the disease in the middle years than in youth.

Some of the reasons why people break down with TB are well known. A heavy new invasion of germs, poor nutrition, lowering of the general level of health, and mental and emotional stress can give the germs their chance to attack. Do modern parents protect their youngsters' health and neglect their own? Are they playing fair with their youngsters in risking their h lth and life in the years when responsibility for the welfare of the family, the community, of the nation rests on their shoulders?

Kenneth Walker To Give Lectures

By Marian Krettler

Since we like sharing good things with our friends and neighbors, here comes a tip. If you are troubled in your spirit about adjusting to this unsettled age, do go down and listen to Mr. Kenneth Walker, who makes a return visit to San Diego beginning with three free lectures on September nineteenth and continuing with two conscutive evenings.

These inspirational sessions take place at the Air Institute down on Harbor Drive, so parking is easy with no heavy traffic interference. Through the good offices of a friend, I was able to sit in on the last lecture of Mr. Walker's former series, and I only wish I had learned of it earlier.

What's troubling you? Every device for physical comfort has been invented. We have gadgets that work at the turn of a switch, we possess fine houses and good income. But—I ask you—is the spirit of man satisfied? I am sure you will agree with me that it is not.

The inner problems besetting us in this uncertain age flow like a dark river beneath apparent security. Inability to get along with fellow workers, jealousy, malice, resentment, dread of the future, insecurity. These are just a few of the miseris that cloud the river of sub-consciousness, which, the Creator intended should flow along, quietly and clearly for our complete good.

Attention was called to this writer by one of Mr. Walker's present associates, whom I have known for a long time. Also, my friend of many years, Mr. Arthur Norris, in himself a definitely recognized teacher of Great Books and philosophy never missed a session of the Walker lectures, which he found valuable.

Kenneth Walker has a name for his work, "Ontology", but to me he deals in super-metaphysics. This is not the time or place wherein to delve into his background, so I'll try to summarize it into a brief paragraph.

Kenneth Walker has taught in many foreign universities, also in this country. During World War Two he was a director of Civil Defense for the city of Los Angeles. While, for four years, he was attached to our Navy, he not only lectured in South America but spoke in almost every hospital and Navy Base in his nation. Then, out to the islands of the Pacific Theatre.

He has done work in alcoholic research for the Allis-Chalmers company, and for the past three years has been Dean of a school of philosophy and power thought in Honolulu.

How many of your are familiar with the works of Emmet Fox? I'll wager that many of you live and act by the precepts of that well-known philosopher. Mr. Walker replaced that much-followed personality when Mr. Fox returned to the United States.

Kenneth Walker is a most informal speaker. He is also a well-known author. So, as you can realize, he is well worthy of attention.

Certainly it is a break for our area that Kenneth Walker will not only be with us again, but also in such a traffic unimpeded place as that on nearby Harbor Drive. So—let's drive down on the evening of September nineteenth and get acquainted with this remarkable man. If we don't realize it now, maybe we'll find what is wrong with personal adjustment, and what to do about it. Perhaps, you'll be so intrigued that you'll sign up later for registration in the complete course. But nobody will urge you. It's simply up to you.

Adjustment Class Open To Adults

The Psychology of Personal Adjustment is offered for the first time by Northwest Adult High School this fall. Problems encountered in family living, business contacts, social relationships, will be discussed by Miss Alice Elliott, the instructor.

Meetings will be informal, with class discussions rather than lectures. Ways to achieve a balanced adjustment to all the stresses and problems of modern living will be outlined. Previous study of psychology is not necessary.

The first class meeting is Thursday, Sept. 16, at Point Loma High School, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Every age, from young adults facing new responsibilities, to retired people with the problem of too much leisure time, can enjoy and profit from this new course.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Thursday mornnig, Sept. 9, a fine 6-lb. 2-oz. baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Bussell (Celia Martin) at Paradise Valley Sanitarium, and all doing nicely. They returned from the hospital last Saturday and are at home, 5022 Niagara Ave. It is believed that Sam will recover.

COPPER TOOLING CLASS HELD EVERY MONDAY EVE

A Copper Tooling class is being held in Point Loma High school for adults every Monday evening from 6:45 to 9:45 o'clock. Instructor of the class is Mrs. Mary Lou Buck. Projects will be planters, lamps, pictures and various articles suitable for gift giving.

"Information" Answers Varied Questions Daily

"What is the population of Ocean Beach. What is the tallest mountain in California? Where do I go to pay my electric light bill?"

These are a few of an average of 30,000 questions asked daily of telephone company operators in the San Diego information office.

There never is a dull moment, agree all 162 of these "voices with a smile."

"School children call almost every day and ask us to spell words and to work their math problems," said Mrs. Georgia Lane, of Ocean Beach.

"Sometimes, they will question at length about history and geography questions." she continued. "We usually just have to give the 'sorry, we do not have that information' answer.

"People occasionally call in about their electric light bill. They mostly want to know where to pay it, or if service can be temporarily discontinued while they are out of town.

"Sometimes, we have difficulty in making them understand that there are two entirely different companies for the two utilities," Mrs. Lane said.

"Some people call in and ask for a Mr. Smith," she pointed out laughingly. "They are certain he has a local telephone number. Only problem is that there are 1600 listings under Smith in the directory . . .

"Before you ask me, there are 1106 Johnsons, and 707 Joneses in the San Diego book."

Mrs. Lane started her telephone career two years ago. She is a graduate of Point Loma high school.

Before becoming information operators, the girls all have to pass special aptitude tests. Judgment, spelling, and the ability to be helpful are some of the requirements they need, and have constant need to exercise.

Their motto is that if they can't give the customer the help he wants, they will give him the telephone number where he can get it, whenever possible.

"This variety of questions is one of the most interesting phases of the job." Mrs. Lane said. "By doing our best to answer them, we know we are doing a public service."

Psychologists Say Traffic Violators Could Be Very Ill

SACRAMENTO—If you violate traffic laws you may be sicker than you think.

Psychologists state that motorists who employ bad driving manners, including rights-of-way snatching, unsafe passing and weaving from lane to lane, many be showing symptoms of mental illness.

Turning to the records, California Highway Patrol statisticians have determined that, month by month, more than one-fourth of all accidents on highways in unincorporated areas of the state are caused by these same violations.

In commenting on this fact, Highway Patrol Commsisioner B. R. Caldwell observed that whether or not these drivers are mentally ill, the overall problem of traffic violations and traffic violators is a social illness of the first magnitude.

"Enforcement officers who frequently see these dangerous acts naturally wonder about the soundness of reasoning of some motorists.

"It may indicate mental illness when a driver cuts sharply in front of another vehicle at high speed, or when he attempts to pass without sufficient clearance. Of this fact, we are certain: Such actions indicate an extreme lack of judgment and social responsibility and are viewed with extreme disfavor by law enforcement personnel," Caldwell declared.

DESTINATION: USA — A dream that came true for Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Holden of Blackpool, England, began about 12 months ago when the couple decided they like to seek their fortune in America. A perfect climate, they thought, would be the deciding factor in choosing their destination. From reading books they found the answer: San Diego. Mr. Holden wrote a letter to the editor of a local newspaper asking for information. Thirty San Diegans answered him!

They sold their home, closed their business, arranged for visas, and three months ago they arrived in San Diego. They are making their home at 2020 Cable St. in Ocean Beach. "I didn't think America could be so different from England," said pretty Mrs. Holden, a brunette whose dimpled smile is as charming and refreshing as her personality.

When asked about the tea-drinking habit of the British, she said, "We drink tea all day, from the time we get up until we go to bed. It is very hard to get a good cup of tea here in the states."

Mrs. Holden threw up her hands in horror when she learned how your reporter made tea. (Boil water, dump in tea, steep three minutes,) strain. "Never," said the lady from Blackpool. "It is very essential to pour the boiling water OVER the tea leaves and let stand a couple of minutes."

Tradesmen in England earn from 50 to 60 cents an hour, said Mr. Holden, and they have to work one hour to buy a package of cigarettes. Houses and apartments are very scarce. There just aren't any vacancies, he said..

In the short time the couple has been here they have made many friends and have called on about half of the thirty people who wrote them. They are a friendly, interesting pair, an asset to the community.

SOMETHING OLD—An anonymous telephone caller: "Can any of your readers beat this? I have in my yard an eight foot, seven inch canna plant." Well, can you?

SOMETHING NEW — Cutest wind-up toy I've seen in ages is a stuffed kitten that quietly sneaks up on a pretty yellow butterfly in flight. Suddenly the kitten makes a desperate dash for its quarry. Available in a Point Loma store.

SOMETHING BORROWED — Three noisy ducks, probably pets, took up residence recently in the front yard of a Point Loma home. Could it have been a prank? Lonely owner may contact Peninsula News.

NOW IS THE TIME—With the beginning of school, each family's glorified chauffeur (wife and mother, that is) can take her hands off the steering wheel and put them back on the telephone where she efficiently does her part for PTA, club and church. It's this army of petual eager beavers who can appreciate Allen's First Law: "Things are easier to get into than get out of."

THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH—In front of the fireplace at 1330 Alexandria Drive is a beautifully grained. modern cocktail table. Owner Mrs. Waldo K. Lyon made it herself this summer. She cut down the legs of an old-fashioned library table, removed the paint, refinished it in natural wood tones, and presto! A handsome piece of furniture with modern lines.

MORE SUMMER SIDELINES —A fisherman's dream came true for Lawrence V. LeMaire, 3470 Ullman St., whose trout fishing talley every day for three days at Yellowstone National Park was the Limit. When he and Mrs. LeMaire left the park they drove to Canada, across to Vancouver and back home via Seattle and the coastline. It was a 4500 mile trip in two weeks time.

Hoping for cooler weather in western Nebraska are Mr. and Mrs. William A. Miller, 3436 Udall, who are planning their vacation with relatives in Scott's Bluff.

"All we did was go from one cooling system to another," said the Edwin L. Hamilton family, who just got back from a two week's vacation in Dallas, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dorman, 3361 Wisteria Drive, are entertaining Mrs. Dorman's mother, Mrs. Gus Riechers, and Miss Eva Werckhagen from Palo Alto.

HEARD AND LIKED—Study without action is futile. Action without study is fatal.

VISITORS FROM CHICAGO—Mr. and Mrs. Werner H. Petersen, 1306 Clove St., are entertaining Mrs. Petersen's aunt, Miss Martha Phillips, from Chicago. The three were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Chambers recently for an afternoon of sailing and dinner on the boat. Miss Phillips is taking turns visiting her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Phillips, 3135 Curtis,, and another Peninsula area niece, Mrs. Norris H. Howe, 776 Silver Gate.

MOVING DAY—Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Klitgaard have bought the lovely 3 story, colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Redwick at 777 Armada Terrace.

The Klitgaard children, Robert, Jr., age 7, and Katherine, age 2, will have lots of fun romping on the ten terraces.

Ruth Miller Is The Woman Behind The Man

By Marian Krettler

If my friend, Ruth Miller, ever sees this screed in print, I'll bet she wisecracks me for being over-enthusiastic about her. Ruth doesn't think she-s so much, she's just a good housekeeper out in La Mesa, rejoicing over her first permanent home, being a mother to the two boys from the Micronesian Islands the Millers have adopted and, anticlimax, hoping she has enough money to go out and buy a loaf of bread, with Navy pay-day in the offing, and little small change on hand.

You'll forive me if I call Admiral Thornton Miller and his wife by their first names. That custom began in the old Oxford Group days, and still continues. Admiral Miller is much in the news on accounts of his many achievements. At present, he is chief chaplain for the Eleventh Naval District. But I knew him when he was chaplain at North Island before the latest world war, as a mere lieutenant-commander.

Excuse just a small paragraph about Thornton Miller. Then, as now, he was dep in the problems of Navymen and their families. Together with Ruth, he organized the Navy Wives Clubs. I'll bet it staggers the Millers when they recognize that the club they sponsored over at North Island has grown to national proportions. I had such a teeny part in the beginnings of the first club, but that was when I learned about the God and Service dedicated Millers.

I wish that Thornton Miller occupied a pulpit of his own. But no. He is presently occupied in helping to solve the terrific problems that come to him through Service personnel. But I did chase that man down when he came home to San Diego and spoke at the Navy Base. Of course, the flag preceded his talk and so did the Navy hymn, "Almighty Father, strong to save. Those imperilled on the wave."

His subject? "My yoke is easy and My burden light." I will never forget it, and it is a simple explanation of why and how the Thornton Millers are able to carry on.

A friend of great understanding, but with a completely cockeyed sense of humor. Her religion doesn't appear on the surface, but one can sense it. Flowing like a deep and silent river. And, despite the demands on her tim, the most completely relaxed person I know. Many times during that afternoon she said belonged to me, the phone rang. Ruth took the number, said she would call back later, but, just now, she was visiting with an old friend. 'Have some more ice tea, Marian," she said. So, we settled down to good talk of old times. and eventually arrived at the present, when Ruth had wonderfulideas of what I should do to escape the tailspin of personal tragedy.

Gosh! If I can live up to Ruth's expectations, I'll really be somebody. What a woman! What a friend!

Thornton came home. Hot and worried from the councilling problems of his day. "Get off your Admiral's coat," I said to him after exchanging a few small pleasantries, "Take a cold shower and go to bed."

That was exactly what he did. He would be called for dinner. After that, more rest, and in that harmonious atmosphere of home, he would be readied for the problems of the next day. Complete relaxation, rest in love and complete understanding. No wonder Admiral Thornton Miller is able to carry on. The breezes blow refreshingly to that home beneath the Helix cross, a place of understandin, light and peace. Where the woman behind the man is Ruth Miller.

The climate beckoning constantly to the N. Vandervort family brought them back to San Diego to make their permanent home on Poinsettia. Mrs. Vandervort teaches at Loma Portal school. They come from Cobleskill, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Tripoli and two sons, David and Philip, are living in their new home in Loma Valley, Phil attends Cabrillo school.
